Introduction to supported self-study

Introduction to supported self-study

Look at the plan of the module and find out where you are.

You can see that this module continues with five further units of work, which will be supported self-study. You will be able to work on these units at home and in school. As its name suggests, you will be working on your own but you will not be alone.

You will have access to:

- your Tutor Mentor
- the other teachers who have been with you today
- a regular time for making contact
- an on-line community which consists of everyone who is engaged in this lottery-funded training.
- Contact will be by email at any time and also by email or telephone during your regular contact time.
